INSIDE INFORMATION

FROM PASSION TO PROFESSION

Dr. Shapiro's passion for plastic surgery began at the tender age of 15, when he underwent cosmetic nasal surgery. "It made me understand how empowering plastic surgery was—the way it helped my self-confidence," he explains. From then on, the doctor's passion became his profession. Now he uses his skill to craft the body; like FACELIFTS, one of his favorite surgeries because of the details involved. "It is very satisfying to make my patients not only look younger, but also more attractive. That's where your aesthetic sense comes in," he says. The doctor tackles facial rejuvenation with specialized techniques, which help rejuvenate with VOLUME DISTRIBUTION so that the skin is not pulled tight. "I redistribute the fat, reestablishing all the beautiful contours of a youthful face without the telltale signs of a facelift," he says. At the same time, he makes sure to address the rest of the face with things like forehead, eyelid, or peri-oral rejuvenation as well as SKIN RESURFACING AND LIP AUGMENTATION. "I address all the areas of the face so that the final result appears natural and coordinates like a well put together outfit," he says.

the golden rule

In a spectacular location at the base of Camelback Mountain, Dr. Shapiro's practice can be simply summed up as uncompromising. "My staff and I believe that every patient should be treated as we ourselves would expect to be treated. We're a discriminating practice for discerning clientele.
