about the treatment

- This patient needed her brows elevated to restore the arches to a more youthful position, and to soften the wrinkles between her eyes. The eyelid surgery improved her bags and made her eyelids crisper like when she was younger. The facelift addressed the facial fat that had dropped, contributing to the heavy appearance of her neck and jowls. By lifting the fat and augmenting the cheeks, the facelift restored her jawline.

Dr. Shapiro used this photo of the woman in her 20s to restore her facial shape.
